

CONVERSATIONS ABOUT CHOLANGIOCARCINOMA (CCA) TO GUIDE YOUR NEXT STEPS

Questions to ask your healthcare professional (HCP) about your CCA diagnosis

Use this discussion guide to talk to your healthcare team about mutational testing, treatment options, symptom management, and what to expect when you are living with CCA.

Diagnosis and Mutational Testing

Can you explain more about CCA and the type of CCA that I have been diagnosed with (intrahepatic, perihilar, distal)?

What stage is my CCA and what does that mean?

What is staging and how can it help guide treatment decisions?

What role do mutations play in my diagnosis?

Can you tell me more about common mutations in CCA?

Should I receive a biomarker test to see if I have a mutation?

Can you explain what biomarker testing involves?

What are the steps to confirming my diagnosis and initiating treatment?

Understanding Treatment

What types of treatments are appropriate for my CCA?

What is different about targeted treatment? How does it work?

Are there targeted therapies for my specific mutations?

If there isn't an approved treatment for me right now, are there clinical trials available for me to participate in?

Monitoring and Managing My Symptoms

How can I manage my current symptoms?

If you experience new or worsening symptoms, including any of these common symptoms of CCA, please discuss them with your doctor:

- ☐ Fever
- ☐ Jaundice
- ☐ Pale stools
- ☐ Loss of appetite/
weight loss
- ☐ Abdominal pain on the right side
- ☐ Dark urine
- ☐ Intense itching

How soon should I contact you if I experience new or worsening symptoms?

How often will I come in for follow-up appointments to monitor my CCA?

Living With CCA

Which of my normal activities will I be able to continue?

Are there actions I can take to maintain or improve my quality of life?

What are some lifestyle changes I might have to make?
