

Resource Guide for Pediatric, Adolescent and Young Adult Oncology Patients

Curated by Servier Pharmaceuticals

ONE
FOR ALL

SERVIER

When you or a member of your family receives a cancer diagnosis, it is hard to know what resources or support you might need throughout treatment. The cancer community is an asset to each person, providing resources that can be helpful for survivorship, starting at diagnosis.

These resources include assistance programs for finance, travel, counseling and so much more. This guide compiles several of the resources available in the community for pediatric and adolescent young adult patients and their caregivers.
